

Ustream Guidelines

1. Create an introduction. What have you been learning? How has it changed you? What can we expect to learn when watching your broadcast?
2. Decide who is going to present what. What order will you present in? What can you do to make your broadcast memorable.
3. Begin your research, write down what you want to say. Practice your presentation. What does a strong presenter look like, sound like, act like?
4. Use the Final Project Sheet to help guide you through your research.
5. As a group come up with two guiding questions to add to your presentation.